

Knoll Outdoor Collection Debuts at 2012 ICFF

Daniel Stromborg Table Collection to Debut at ICFF

Knoll, Inc. will introduce the Knoll Outdoor Collection, including modernist outdoor classics and bold contemporary designs, at the International Contemporary Furniture Fair® (ICFF), May 19 — 22, held in New York City. ICFF is North America's premier showcase for contemporary design.

"Knoll defines outdoor living with pieces that inspire and endure. Distinctive furniture by Richard Schultz, Harry Bertoia, Don Chadwick, Daniel Stromborg and Maya Lin feature a range of material and price options for dining, entertaining and relaxing at home," said Mark Skerik, KnollStudio Senior Marketing Director.

"And we are delighted to present Richard Schultz and KnollStudio products together again at North American's premier trade show for contemporary residential design," he continued.

Knoll acquired Richard Schultz Design in March of 2012.

The Knoll ICFF display will showcase the iconic 1966 Collection and 1960 Petal Table Collection, originally designed for Knoll by Richard Schultz. The 1966 Collection, manufactured to withstand the outdoors, and The Petal Collection, designed to complement the iconic Bertoia Diamond chair, are now part of the KnollStudio Collection.

In addition, the new Daniel Stromborg Table Collection will debut ICFF. The forward-thinking Stromborg Table Collection offers a pared down, understated expression of traditional form, robust enough for outdoor use. It features powder coated steel legs, connected by extruded aluminum stretchers that serve as support for the floating tops.

The 2012 International Contemporary Furniture Fair will be held at the Jacob K. Javits Convention Center, located at 655 West 34th Street (at 11th Avenue at 38th Street) in New York City from May 19 — 22, 2012.
