

Colebrook Bosson Saunders Lima & Ollin Achieve Declare Label

We are excited to announce that Ollin and Lima monitor arms now have Declare Labels, demonstrating that the products are compliant with the Living Building Challenge. They join Flo, which achieved Declare back in June.

Declare is an ingredients label for building products and highlights CBS's commitment to using healthy materials.

This certification, paired with the online database of healthy materials (Lima and Ollin) allows CBS and manufacturers of ecologically sound products to demonstrate market leadership in the growing movement toward product transparency and health in the built environment.
