

Colebrook Bosson Saunders launch their Sustainability Framework

Colebrook Bosson Saunders, a MillerKnoll brand, is thrilled to announce their Sustainability Framework focused on accelerating strategic sustainability action across their designs, operations, and value chain. This strategy centers around three pillars: Environmental Stewardship, Human Health & Well-Being, and Leading Credentials & Transparency.

Amalie Aarestrup, Sustainability Lead says: We are focused on strengthening our commitment and strategic efforts in sustainability, circularity and commitment to healthier chemicals and workplace well-being, through a strategic framework that aligns with MillerKnoll's sustainability legacy and actions.

Colebrook Bosson Sanders has made great strides, including eliminating plastic packaging from 90% of the portfolio by August 2024. Throughout the decades, Colebrook Bosson Saunders products have been designed to last, and their new commitment actions taking circularity and product sustainability further.
